POPULATION

For the census conducted earlier in our country, the official results referred to the so-called resident population, i.e. population who reside in the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina, regardless of whether at the critical moment of the census, the persons were present at the place of residence or were temporary absent, in the country or abroad, due to some other reasons .

In the Population Census in 1961 and 1971 as a resident population persons were registered at the place where they worked at the Census moment, while in the 1981 and 1991 Census these persons were enumerated as a resident population in the places where their families lived.

For the next Census of Population, Households and Dwellings, for the enumeration units new definitions will be used, which are in accordance with the Conference of European Statisticians Recommendations for the 2010 Censuses of Population and Housing and Regulation (EC) No. 763/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council.

Natural change is the difference (surplus or deficit) between the number of births and the number of deaths in a given period.

Births and deaths: according to the legal regulations on registration, events of births and deaths are obligatory registered in population registers of the area where they took place, irrespective of the residence of the persons.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCER PRICE INDICES IN BIH, 2010 (December 2006=100)

Producer Price Index is a short-term statistical indicator that represents the measurement of change of prices of industrial products produced and sold by enterprises. This statistical indicator serves as the measure of inflation. It can also serve as the indicator of economical performances, escalator in long-term contracts, deflator for output values, intermediate consumption, and capital consumption in National Accounts, and as an important tool in creating monetary and fiscal policies.

PPI in Bosnia and Herzegovina is calculated based on the representative list of products and its producers making a sample of cca. 531 producers and 918 products. Each month 1854 prices are collected directly from producers through the unique questionnaire.
